Representatives from East Tennessee State University and Edward Via College of Osteopathic Medicine signed an articulation agreement on Wednesday to guarantee certain ETSU medical students interviews with the college.

The agreement means students who apply at VCOM and meet certain criteria — such as a certain grade point average and a certain amount of service hours — are guaranteed an on-campus interview with three faculty and staff members and participation in designated interview day activities.

“This partnership will help us to address the shortage of physicians in rural and underserved communities,” said ETSU Provost Kimberly McCorkle. “We’re proud of this opportunity — it meets our mission to serve the people of this region.”

VCOM co-founder and Chairman John Rocovich said the school’s goal is to train physicians who will remain and work in underserved communities throughout the rural South.

Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital named NRHA Top 20 Rural & Community Hospital for 2022

The National Rural Health Association recognizes the Top 20 Rural and Community Hospitals from list of the Top 100 RCHs as determined by The Chartis Center for Rural Health. The 20 overall winners have achieved success based on the Chartis Rural Hospital Performance INDEX™, the most comprehensive and objective assessment of U.S. rural Prospective Payment System (PPS) hospital performance based upon market, value-based and financial measures. The Top 20 RCH winners are honored annually during a luncheon May 12 at NRHA’s Annual Rural Health Conference and Rural Hospital Innovation Summit.

In 2022, RSMH is the only hospital in Virginia to be recognized in the Top 20; making it the only hospital in Virginia to make the Top 20 in the past six years. In 2021, RSMH was one of two hospitals on the East coast and the only one in Virginia to receive Top 20 recognition. In 2020 RSMH was the only hospital in Virginia to be recognized in the Top 100 Rural and Community Hospitals.
