AHRQ’s Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Strategic Framework: Request for Public Comment

AHRQ is seeking public comment on the proposed strategic framework for the Agency’s Patient-Centered Outcomes Research (PCOR) Trust Fund investments through fiscal year 2029. The framework was developed in response to the reauthorization of the PCORTF and will guide future planning and evaluation of AHRQ’s PCORTF investments. The strategic framework aligns with AHRQ’s mission and broader goals of improving the quality, safety, equity, and value of healthcare delivery.

The draft framework currently identifies five priorities for advancing healthcare delivery and improving patient outcomes. These interrelated priorities are intended to achieve the proposed framework’s overall vision of delivering equitable whole-person care across patients’ lifespans.

NRHA survey shows rural COVID vaccine barriers, needs

With support from CDC and in collaboration with FORHP, NRHA recently partnered with Morning Consult on a nationwide poll of rural residents regarding the COVID-19 vaccine, trusted sources of information, and barriers to vaccine uptake.

With an initial goal of approximately 1,000 responses from adults, parents of children under 18, and teens 15 to 18, the final number of responses exceeded 2,500.

NRHA is most excited about the teenage subpopulation surveyed, as it marks the first time data has been gathered on attitudes for this age group.

Survey results are made possible by the CDC and FORHP. See a full breakdown of responses, and a three-page summary of the data.
