About VRHA

The Virginia Rural Health Association (VRHA) is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization working for the 2.5 million people who call rural Virginia their home. Our mission is to improve the health of rural Virginians through education, advocacy, and fostering cooperative partnerships.

Organization Member
Locations

For over twenty years, the Virginia Rural Health Association has served as "The Voice for Rural Health in Virginia." Rural Health is different. Rural Americans face a unique combination of factors that create disparities in health care not found in urban areas.

Economic factors, cultural and social differences, educational differences, lack of recognition by legislators and the isolation of living in remote rural areas all conspire to impede rural Americans in their struggle to lead a normal, healthy life.
