Now Seeking State Resources for LGBTQ+ Teens

Research shows that providing young people with an avenue to discuss their sexual orientation or gender identity in a safe, affirming, and confidential environment decreases significantly the risk of suicidal ideation. Availability of LGBTQ+ youth resources is essential for youth who need support and are not comfortable bringing their questions to a family member.

The Virginia Rural Health Association needs your assistance in compiling resources for LGBTQ+ youth to add to our Pride of Rural Virginia page. We are actively seeking information about organizations, support groups, websites, etc. that provide assistance or information that benefits our under 18 LGBTQ+ community.

Resources can be shared with us by responding directly to this email. You can also message us on Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram @VaRuralHealth or email Meghan Stump at meghan@vrha.org.

Olde Towne Medical & Dental Center gets ready to celebrate 30 years of helping those who need health care

Olde Towne Medical & Dental Center offers invaluable services that can be difficult to find elsewhere. The center’s mission is simple: “to provide quality, cost-effective, coordinated and preventative primary health care to clients, regardless of ability to pay.”

Aaron Thompson, who has been executive director of the center since 2020, explained what it’s like to walk through the center’s lobby and see patients who have been denied service at other places. The elation of people who have suffered and finally received care, Thompson said, makes his nearly hourlong commute to work all worth it.

The center has around 44 full-time and part-time employees, as well as 35-40 volunteers. This includes five nurse practitioners, an optometrist and a dental director. Some of the volunteers are specialists, such as cardiologists, neurologists and physiatrists, who work at other practices but volunteer their time at Olde Towne.

Services offered include in-house labs, immunization clinic and prenatal care. The center will have seen around 4,000 individual patients this year.
